- If appointed, you will be required by state law to file financial disclosure statements with the Washington Public Disclosure Commission (www.pdc.wa.gov).

Commissioner Duties & Compensation

The Port of Woodland is a municipal corporation which exercises local governmental powers. The Port has a three-member Commission which acts as the Port's policy making and regulatory body. The Commission duties include adopting a plan for harbor improvements, creating industrial improvement districts, establishing user rates for port facilities, setting compensation levels and expense reimbursement for Port staff, adopting the Port budget, levying taxes, providing promotional hosting expenditures, and executing contracts. Information on the legal authority of Port districts and the role of Port Commissioners is available through the Municipal Research and Services Center (MRSC) and Washington Public Ports Association (WPPA).

The duties of a Port Commissioner will likely involve an average minimum commitment of 8-12 hours per month for preparation, participation, and attendance at various meetings and community activities. Beyond the broad duties previously mentioned, Commission duties include, but are not limited to:

- Required attendance at regular Port Commission meetings, which are held on the first Thursday of the month at 3 P.M. and third Thursday at 5 P.M. From time to time, Port of Woodland Commission President may call special Commission meetings to handle Port business.
- Commissioners are expected to serve on regional boards and commissions, and to represent the Port Commission at various community functions. These various meetings and functions occur normally during the evenings, but may also occur occasionally on weekends, and during week days.
- Advise the Executive Director on long-range planning. Approve basic long- and short-range operating plans and budgets as recommended by the Executive Director in keeping with established direction, objectives, and policies.
- Decide on matters which exert major influence on the manner in which the Port's business is conducted; and in general, protect and make the most effective use of the Port of Woodland's assets.

The Commissioner compensation is based on per diem rate and no other salary.

Each Candidate should come to the interview prepared to speak to the following questions:

1. Why do you want to serve on the Port of Woodland Commission?
2. What experiences, talents or skills would you bring to the Port and community that you would like to highlight?
3. Are there any Port issues in which you have a particular interest or expertise?
4. Given the limited term of the appointment, what do you hope to accomplish as a Port Commissioner?
5. What is your understanding of Port governance and the decision-making process?

The Commission may ask additional questions of candidates during the interview.
